Compliance Coach and Iatric Systems will host a free webinar on October 16, 2008 at 11 am Pacific / 2 pm Eastern to raise awareness among thousands of hospitals and health systems who are not aware of compliance requirements or are running out of time to comply

SAN DIEGO (October 14, 2008) - Compliance Coach Inc., a leading provider of automated regulatory compliance solutions, today announced a partnership with Iatric System, Inc. (Iatric Systems). Iatric Systems will offer Compliance Coach's CompliancePal software to its hospital and health systems customers.

Earlier this year, Compliance Coach launched CompliancePal, a user-friendly Web-based software that employs a unique five-step system to facilitate compliance with the FACT Act Identity Theft Red Flags Rule. The CompliancePal software enables entities to comply more quickly and with less effort.

Most hospitals and other medical services providers are considered creditors under the Rule and must comply. However, most are either unaware that the Rule applies to them or are delayed in their compliance efforts. Failure to comply can lead to civil monetary penalties for each violation, regulatory enforcement action, private plaintiff lawsuits and negative publicity.

"We are delighted to partner with Iatric Systems, a leading software solutions provider to hospitals and others" said Sai Huda, chairman and CEO, Compliance Coach. "We look forward to working with Iatric Systems to market our industry leading Red Flags compliance solution, CompliancePal. With less than 30 days left before the deadline, CompliancePal is the only solution that can quickly and easily enable compliance," continued Huda.

"We are pleased to partner with Compliance Coach. We look forward to offering CompliancePal to our hospital and health systems customers," said John Danahey, Vice President Iatric Systems. "The compliance deadline is fast approaching; CompliancePal is an extremely timely and cost effective solution for the medical community," continued Danahey.

CompliancePal, a Web-based software, walks the user through a series of questions and produces the required risk assessment, the mapping of red flags to appropriate detection and response procedures, the written program, the training materials and the compliance status report - everything necessary to pass an audit.

The software contains 65 red flags, including those related to medical identity theft and the government's 26 red flags. It is updated regularly to address new identity theft schemes and red flags, enabling a covered entity to easily update its identity theft program and maintain compliance. To use the solution, companies simply sign-up online and access the software via the Internet. A demo can be viewed at <http://www.compliancepal.com>.
